U of M Crookston to host Preview Day for New Students on Sat., Oct. 13, 2007

By Amber Evans-Dailey, Elizabeth Tollefson, Kathryn Webster on Monday, October 1, 2007

CROOKSTON, Minn. (October 1, 2007) – New and prospective students can connect with the University of Minnesota Crookston to learn more during Preview Day on Saturday, October 13, 2007. Families are also encouraged to attend Preview Day at the U of M Crookston along with their new student.

Preview Day provides time for new students to interact with faculty, current students and staff as well as learn more about the Crookston campus. Highlights include receiving detailed information about opportunities for students at the U of M, Crookston, eating lunch with professors in Brown Dining Hall, interacting during question and answer sessions and touring campus.

"Discover the University of Minnesota Crookston and determine if it's a good fit for you," says Admissions Director Amber Evans-Dailey. "Preview day is a great opportunity for anyone interested in attending the University of Minnesota, Crookston to experience campus first hand. It's not too late to consider the University of Minnesota Crookston for spring semester 2008, and it's the perfect time for the senior class of 2008 to visit."

Students may go online to register for Preview Day on Saturday, October 13 by visiting www.UMCrookston.edu/admissions or sign up by contacting the Admissions Office at 218-281-8569.

The University of Minnesota Crookston (UMC) delivers more than 25 applied-science undergraduate degree programs and 50 concentrations, including online degrees, in agriculture; arts, humanities and social sciences; business; math, science and technology; and natural resources.
